Provider: The nurse tells me you are concerned that your son has asthma.
Provider: Can you tell me what symptoms he has right now?
Patient: I know he has asthma. My sister had the same problems breathing and had to use an inhaler for many years.
Patient: His cough is getting worse and the over the counter medicines don't work for him anymore.
Patient: He seems very weak and tired after he plays soccer. Is that normal?
Provider: Not all children have the same asthma symptoms, and these symptoms can also vary from episode to episode in the same child.
Provider: Do you notice him coughing more when he is playing, crying or laughing? Or is it mostly at night?
Patient: It's mostly at night. He says that his chest hurts, and I hear this whistle sound when he breathes.
Patient: He coughs a little during the day when he is playing, and he snores too.
Provider: Let me do a physical exam and I will listen to your son's heart and lungs.
Provider: I will also check his nose or eyes for signs of allergies. A lot of children that have allergies can also have asthma.
Provider: We may need to do a chest X-ray and other tests.

Patient: Do you charge for every test you give to patients? I can already tell you that my son has asthma.
Patient: I took my sister to the doctor many times with the same symptoms, so I know he has the same thing.
Provider: We need to rule out other illnesses and I also need to measure the amount of air in the lungs.
Provider: The results will help me determine how severe the asthma is and what medications your son will need.
Provider: I may need to do an allergy test to see if we can find out what causes the asthma attacks in your son.
Provider: Everyone is different and the asthma attacks that your sister and you son have may be caused by many different things.
Patient: Well, I just want him to be cured.
Provider: If your son has asthma, it cannot be cured but it can be controlled.
Provider: The goal is for your son to live an active and normal life and to avoid asthma attacks by using the medications properly.
Patient: My sister was cured. Maybe my son can use her old inhaler. Thank you.
